Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-20 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
3. The main reason for allowance over the prior art, the most relevant prior art being USPN 6,204,989 to Hrinya et al., is that the prior art does not teach or suggest the claimed invention recited in claims 1, 6, and 13, where the distinguishing limitation in the aforementioned independent claims is the use of an encoder to generate a rotation data signal which is utilized to correct a pattern writing clock signal in an electron beam exposure apparatus where the exposure is conducted while the substrate being exposed by the electron beam is rotating. The prior art of Hrinya et al. teaches an optical, not electron beam, exposure apparatus and method having an encoder coupled to the shaft on which the substrate is set where the encoder produces circumferential position information (Note Col. 4-5 of Hrinya et al.). However, the prior art fails to teach that this information is utilized to correct the timing of the pattern writing as required in the independent claims. Therefore, claims 1, 6, and 13 are allowable over the prior art. Claims 2-5, 7-12 and 14-20 are allowable by virtue of their dependency.
4. Also of note are USPN 3,956,635; USPN 4820928; USPN 5,136,169; USPN 5,148,322; USPN 6,262,429; USPN 6,393,604; USPN 6,500,497. These patent documents were cited in the prosecution of Application Serial Number 10/875,629 and were relied upon to reject the claims under 35 USC 103(a). After considering the references and the differences in the claimed invention of that application with the instant application, the examiner has concluded that the obviousness type rejection made in US Patent Application Serial Number 10/875,629 cannot be held with respect to the instant application.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
